Are We Mistaken About Mt. Sterling.

We have for a number of years considered Mt. Sterling one of the enterprising cities of Kentucky. Can it be possible that we are entirely mistaken about this being a fact? Yet we understand that the proposed electric road from Paris to that city was sidetracked by the Montgomery Fiscal Court refusing to grant a franchise to the company Monday. For years Mt. Sterling has paid more extortionate freight rates than any city in Kentucky, the C. & O. having that city completely at its mercy, and now when competition is offered them without any cost whatever they refuse it. What can be the matter? Is it that a few Mt. Sterling merchants are afraid of Paris merchants getting some of their trade and have worked up this opposition? Perhaps, though, the Fiscal Court of Montgomery believe in voting for the benefit of a few and not for the benefit of the people. [This is Republicanism, but we have always considered things Democratic in that neck of the woods. How about it, Mt. Sterling, can you give one single excuse for your court refusing to grant this franchise?

DEATHS.

—Willie Parker, aged about 16 years, died at the home of his grandfather, Mr. Nicholas Connell, on Main street, yesterday afternoon, at 5:30 o'clock, of Bright's disease. He was the son of Mrs. Mamie Parker and the late Wm. Parker. He had been a delicate child and a sufferer for a number of years, but was of a cheerful disposition and bore up under them like an old person. He was a favorite with all that knew him, and a large circle of friends will regret to hear of his death. The funeral arrangements had not been made as we go to press.

—Col. Robt. L. Crigler died at his apartments in the Henrietta Building, Cincinnati, Tuesday morning, after an illness of about three months. Col. Crigler was born in Boone county, Ky., September 18, 1834. He went to Cincinnati when 16 years of age and took a position in a dry goods store, and in 1856 he came to this city and engaged in the dry goods business with the late Mr. G. Tucker. He accumulated a small fortune the fifteen years he lived in Paris, and returned to Cincinnati in 1870. He then entered the liquor business, and at one time was one of the largest liquor dealers in Kentucky, owning two of the largest distilleries in the State. In late years two of his nephews have been managing his affairs. He is survived by his wife.

How the Gases are Burned in Buck's Hot Blast.

Note the upper draft in this stove where the fire pot is supplied with heated air instead of through the lower drafts (the open one) used in most heaters.

That's how the gases are mixed with oxygen directly over the fire. The gases do not escape on the flue.

We also handle the great 20th Century Heater. The Buck's and 20th Century Heaters are the two best made—don't buy until you see this line
